What if...

What if everyone had 3 free wishes from a fairy?

what if we all truly believed all the changes we want to see were possible

What if all buildings were overgrown by plants?

food was free

we all could share all.

What if §2 of the Constitution will be called "The dignity of NATURE is inviolable"?

what if green is the new grey

What if we were able to use less cars and other private transports?

what if we just start with one little change, which create a much bigger change afterwards

96

What if...

What if we all work together for a healthy planet?

...we would subsidise high biodiversity in farms (result based)?

What if I worked only 4 hours per day?

there were more bike trails than streets?

we truely believed that change is possible?

What if there is more consciousness about nature and earth?

What if we would play this what if game every morning to start the day?

What if we all had an equal opportunity to participate in decision-making in society?

we had some kind of a community center for all ages to transfer knowledge between generations?

96

What if...

What if the wellbeing of people was in in the center of every organisation

What if the subsidies are based on number of species in the farm?

We would organise our society & economy around cooperation & communal organisation we'd bring to dinner parties a rare seedling instead of a bottle of wine. (...well or in addition to the wine)

What if food was grown locally?

What if all rooftops were green and provide space for community activities and playing?

we let wildlife to live alongside with us?

What if empathy and biodiversity were subjects in school

What if streets turn into meadows?

96

What if...

political and economic values were set by today's youth?

in 10 years in europe there is only small stuctured and regenerative agriculture to be found...

all people would be welcome in our society

What if we turned off nearly all the lights at night even in big cities and worked with motion detectors instead?

What if we all have jobs that benefit nature?

we convinced climate emergency deniers that action is needed?

what if people have more place on the not anaymore existing streets to meet each other in real way

food is produce nearly completly near the town

What if we understood the language of the animals?

96

What if...

What if we had workshops and exchanges like this more often?

What, if tourists rated the hotels higher for regional, seasonal food from organic agriculture?

what if, there were more cooperation between all the alternative cooperations and group projecst

What if we would exchange seedlings and our knowledge about flora and fauna varieties?

What if regional currencies would be used for regiona cunsumption?

What if all things natural become our partner and we support them as they support us...

...everyone feels included and loved?

all the people in the whole world felt deeply connected to nature, what if we all felt being carefully held by Mother Earth

...state minimum security for useful projects

96

What if...

What if there was a minimum income that allowed citizens to pursue visions without having to balance them with their financial concerns.

... we would really have a huge mobilisation of the "beraved masses", who are fighting for a great & healthy future like the workers movement did?!

Everyone was caring about environment and other people?

we re-connected ourselves with Nature?

we would rediscover our roots (in mother nature)?

What if traditional healing plants become legal?

I wouldn't need to take care of my own income any more?

environment laws would get into constitution and would be strictly respected

What if it would be easy and possible to take the train all around the world and cross the oceans with sailing boat?

96

What if...

What if life is brought back to city centers?

Essbare Waldgartenstadt, wo so viele Bäume gepflanzt werden, dass ein durchgehendes Baumkronendach entsteht und mindestens jeder 2. Baum hat essbare Früchte od andere Teile. Bis die Bäume i.d.Boden gebracht werdenkönnen, wachsen gr. Pflanzcontainern

the economic system would be about working togehther cars are forbidden in citys and bicycles are free for everyone

What if all domestic cats and dogs had home

What if nobody was disgusted by worms and compost toilets?

...homeoffice to safe recources

What if the large cities were split up into urban villages ?

we would have no (inner and outter) boundaries, no monetary systems, just pure, unconditioned love and respect for US ALL in any ways - on behalf of pacha mama, all animals and people worldwide.

96

What if...

what if the cities had more power than the states?

What if Doughnut Economy replaces the demand for constant economic growth?

What if everybody was working on what they really really care for?

what if we stop compensating our needs or deficiencies by consumptions

...after experiencing a crisis, politics are looking for transition?

...we produce sensful products only what if money didn't exist?

what if we get 100 % our Energy from solar, wind and water.

What if we knew all the neighbours in our houses and if they need something?

96

What if...

we would have forgotten that nuclear power and coal was once used to generate electricity we would live just in pure love and anarchy?

what if we stop compensating our fears and deficiencies by consumtion

What if people in each garden at least would grow one type of vegetabele?

What if we keep calm and reflective and living up to what we really care for even after the lockdown?

we all truly believed that changes we want to see around us are really possible

What if we would pay a fair price for food

we find quick ways to renature our soil

we would respect and not kill any of these 60 billions animals worldwide - per year.

96

What if...

What if the money for cities or subsidies for farms is bound to the amount of species found their?

What if things don't go back "normal" after this crisis, but we build for a better future?

what if economy wouldnt need to grow anymore?

we stopped running after the "growth" obsession?

what if we greeted everyone we meet on the streets? - Even in cities mindfulness moves from a hippie thing to a societal norm?

we would have it OUR way without any What ifs left....

What if there was a repair cafe in every village?

What if public transport was for free?

96

What if...

waht if all nature conservation laws are respected

...we have more freetime to do sensful stuff

What if domestic work is paid?

591671

what if we all sew our own chlothing and there is no rules and fashion around?

these kind of talking circle was wonderful and reach on vision. What if we implement in our education those exploring power and ivitate also diverse people to give her input into creative way

96